

Thursday November 20, 2008

TFC: Sentence structure -- video on problems with sentences

Targets:

- 4 rules to good short answer writing -- review
- Sentence structure: fragments, comma splices and run-ons

OC: complete vocab lesson 7 by Monday

Discovery Ed
streaming video

Nov 17-4:45 PM

Make a Bulls-eye

Identify the following sentence errors and correct them.

In the short story "A retrieved Reformation" the symbol was a rose, I think it was a symbol of Jimy Valentine' and Annabell's love.

fragment

comma splice

run-on

comma splice
Do NOT
connect independent
clauses with a

Nov 17-9:02 PM

The symbol is the rose Ralph Spencer took the rose from Annabel he would have something to remember her the rose represented their love.

fragment

comma splice

run-on

run-on -- 4
independent
clauses run
together with no punctuation

Nov 19-4:48 PM

In "A Retrieved Reformation." The symbol is a rose, it represents the love of Jimmy and Annabel.

fragment

comma splice

run-on

fragment &
comma splice:
part of a
sentence and a misplaced

Nov 19-4:48 PM

The symbol is the rose and it represents the love of Annabel and Jimmy Valentine.

The symbol in "A Retrieved Reformation" was a rose from Annabel. The rose stood for the love and memories of Annabel, because Jimmy Valentine thought that he would never see her again.

Topic is not restated

This response restates and completely answers the question

Nov 19-5:03 PM

The symbol at the end of the story is the rose that Annabell had given Ralph Spencer, jimmy valentine was reborn from Ralph Spencer's ashes and gave up his new life and to be wife to save a little girl.

The symbol in "A Retrieved Reformation" is the rose that Annabel had on her dress. It symbolized Ralph's love for her.

response does not restate the topic, is a comma splice and does not completely answer the question

A complete response covering all rules of good short answer writing

Nov 19-5:17 PM